

Art Display Reaches New Heights at McHenry Row

Lighting the way to innovation, Art Display Co. gave an iconic Landmark a futuristic makeover for the mixed use project at McHenry Row. The signature water tower, soaring 153 feet high, gave us a great opportunity to provide the customer with an illuminated sculpture with eco-friendly LED lights encircling the roof and climbing up the four support legs of the tower. Additionally, 4 feet tall face-illuminated channel letters and 8 feet tall stars created instant recognition for the project. Unable to bring cranes onto the pavers, scaffolding was erected around the tower. When the tower lights turned on, the light reflecting against the structure made an extraordinary light show, thus providing an opportunity for the breathtaking and structurally artistic photo below.

Image is Everything at Art Display, and so are our customers. Let us help you tower over your competition. When it comes to branding your product, look to Art Display to light the way.

Visit our web site periodically for more updates on this and other exciting projects!

www.ArtDisplayCo.com